See other side.....

Jaded (These Years)" by Mest

There's a time and place, for everything.
There's a reason why, certain people meet.
There's a destination, for everyone.
What's the explanation, when we're done?

All the summer nights spent wondering;
So many questions asked, but no one's answering.
Would it be okay if I left today?
Took my chances on what you said was wrong?

I'm jaded, stupid, and and reckless.
Not sorry, and I'll never regret.
These years spent, so faded and reckless.
Not sorry, and I'll never regret these years.
I'll never regret these years.

Now here i sit, so far away.
Remembering all our memories.
Its times like these that I miss you most,
Remembering when we were so close.

I'm jaded, stupid, and and reckless.
Not sorry, we'll never regret.
These years spent, so faded and reckless.
Not sorry, and I'll never regret these years.

We'll never forget the places we've been, you and i.
Our lives are slipping away.
Don't want to let time pass us by, byyyyyyy...

I'm jaded, stupid, and and reckless.
Not sorry, and I'll never regret.
These years....
...spent, so faded and reckless,
Not sorry, and I'll never regret...
I'm jaded, stupid, and and reckless.
Not sorry, and I'll never regret these years.

Poem: Your day has arrived by

Graduation day is finally here,
And now ends your high school career.
Always remember the friends you hold dear,
And look toward your future without fear.

This is the day you've been preparing for,
Since the day you walked through that first classroom door.
Now it's time to say goodbye,
And spread your wings to fly.

So shed a tear and share a smile,
And be sure to remember all the while,
That although it may be time to move on,
Today's memories will last your whole life long.
